

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

LARRY BRIAN PORTEOUS,

Case No. 1:21-cv-00529-SAB (PC)

Plaintiff,

ORDER GRANTING IN PART AND
DENYING IN PART PLAINTIFF'S
SECOND MOTION TO COMPEL

R. AVILA, et al.,

(ECF No. 29)

Defendants.

Plaintiff Larry Brian Porteous is proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis in this civil rights action filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

Currently before the Court is Plaintiff's second motion to compel, filed July 21, 2022.

I.

RELEVANT BACKGROUND

This action is proceeding against Defendant R. Avila for retaliation and against Defendants R. Avila and K. Welch for a due process violation.

Defendants filed an answer to the complaint on September 20, 2021.

On October 22, 2021, the Court issued the discovery and scheduling order. (ECF No.

16.)

On April 15, 2022, Plaintiff filed a motion to compel. (ECF No. 17.) Defendants filed an opposition on May 4, 2022, and Plaintiff did not file a reply. Local Rule 230(l).

On May 31, 2022, the Court denied Plaintiff's motion to compel. (ECF No. 22.)

1 On June 24, 2022, Plaintiff filed a second motion to compel. (ECF No. 29.) Defendants
2 filed an opposition on July 21, 2022, and Plaintiff filed a reply on August 8, 2022. (ECF Nos.
3 32, 35.)

5 LEGAL STANDARD

6 Plaintiff is proceeding pro se and he is a state prisoner challenging his conditions of 7 confinement. As a result, the parties were relieved of some of the requirements which would 8 otherwise apply, including initial disclosure and the need to meet and confer in good faith prior 9 to involving the Court in a discovery dispute. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c);
10 Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a)(1); Local Rules 240, 251; ECF No. 16. Further, where otherwise
11 discoverable information would pose a threat to the safety and security of the prison or infringe
12 upon a protected privacy interest, a need may arise for the Court to balance interests in 13 determining whether disclosure should occur. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c); Seattle Times Co. v.
14 Rhinehart, 467 U.S. 20, 35 n.21 (1984) (privacy rights or interests implicit in broad purpose and 15 language of Rule 26(c)); Burlington N. & Santa Fe Ry. Co. v. United States Dist. Court for the 16 Dist. of Montana, 408 F.3d 1142, 1149 (9th Cir. 2005) (discussing assertion of privilege); Soto v.
17 City of Concord, 162 F.R.D. 603, 616 (N.D. Cal. 1995) (recognizing a constitutionally-based 18 right of privacy that can be raised in discovery); see also Garcia v. Clark, No. 1:10-CV-00447-
19 LJO-DLB PC, 2012 WL 1232315, at *6 n.5 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 12, 2012) (noting inmate's 20 entitlement to inspect discoverable information may be accommodated in ways which mitigate 21 institutional safety concerns); Robinson v. Adams, No. 1:08-cv-01380-AWI-BAM PC, 2012 WL
22 912746, at *2-3 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 16, 2012) (issuing protective order regarding documents
23 containing information which implicated the safety and security of the prison); Orr v. Hernandez, 24 No. CV-08-0472-JLQ, 2012 WL 761355, at *1-2 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 7, 2012) (addressing requests 25 for protective order and for redaction of information asserted to risk jeopardizing safety and 26 security of inmates or the institution if released); Womack v. Virga, No. CIV S-11-1030 MCE 27 EFB P, 2011 WL 6703958, at *5-6 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 21, 2011) (requiring defendants to submit 28 withheld documents for in camera review or move for a protective order).

1       However, this is a civil action to which the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure apply. The 2 discovery process is subject to the overriding limitation of good faith, and callous disregard of 3 discovery responsibilities cannot be condoned. Asea, Inc. v. Southern Pac. Transp. Co., 669
4 F.2d 1242, 1246 (9th Cir. 1981) (quotation marks and citation omitted). “Parties may obtain 5 discovery regarding any nonprivileged matter that is relevant to any party’s claim or defense and 6 proportional to the needs of the case, considering the importance of the issues at stake in the 7 action, the amount in controversy, the parties’ relative access to relevant information, the parties’
8 resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or 9 expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit.” Fed R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1).

10       Generally, if the responding party objects to a discovery request, the party moving to 11 compel bears the burden of demonstrating why the objections are not justified. Grabek v.
12 Dickinson, No. CIV S-10-2892 GGH P, 2012 WL 113799, at *1 (E.D. Cal. Jan. 13, 2012);
13 Womack, 2011 WL 6703958, at *3; Mitchell v. Felker, No. CV 08-119RAJ, 2010 WL 3835765,
14 at *2 (E.D. Cal. Sep. 29, 2010); Ellis v. Cambra, No. 1:02-cv-05646-AWI-SMS PC, 2008 WL
15 860523, at *4 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 27, 2008). This requires the moving party to inform the Court
16 which discovery requests are the subject of the motion to compel, and, for each disputed 17 response, why the information sought is relevant and why the responding party’s objections are 18 not meritorious. Grabek, 2012 WL 113799, at *1; Womack, 2011 WL 6703958, at *3; Mitchell, 19 2010 WL 3835765, at *2; Ellis, 2008 WL 860523, at *4. However, the Court is vested with 20 broad discretion to manage discovery and notwithstanding these procedures, Plaintiff is entitled
21 to leniency as a pro se litigant; therefore, to the extent possible, the Court endeavors to resolve
22 his motion to compel on its merits. Hunt v. County of Orange, 672 F.3d
23 606, 616 (9th Cir. 2012); Surfivor Media, Inc. v. Survivor Productions, 406 F.3d 625, 635 (9th 24 Cir. 2005); Hallett v. Morgan, 296 F.3d 732, 751 (9th Cir. 2002).

DISCUSSION

3 Plaintiff seeks to compel further responses to his request for production of documents, set
4 two, numbers 3 and 9, and request for production of documents, set three, numbers 1 through 5.
5 (ECF No. 29.)

6 Defendants oppose Plaintiff's motion and argue that they appropriately objected and 7 produced all discovery information relevant and proportional to the needs of the case.

A. Request for Production of Documents

9       Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34 authorizes a party to serve on any other party with a 10 request to produce documents, electronically stored information, or other tangible evidence, that 11 is relevant within the definition set forth in Rule 26(b). See Fed. R. Civ. P. 34(a)(1). “For each 12 item or category, the response must either state that inspection and related activities will be 13 permitted as requested or state an objection to the request, including the reasons.... An objection
14 to part of a request must specify the part and permit inspection of the rest.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
15 34(b)(2)(B), (C).

16        “[A] party need not have actual possession of documents to be deemed in control of 17 them.” Clark v. Vega Wholesale Inc., 181 F.R.D. 470, 472 (D. Nev. 1998) (quoting Estate of 18 Young v. Holmes, 134 F.R.D. 291, 294 (D. Nev. 1991) ). “A party that has a legal right to obtain
19 certain documents is deemed to have control of the documents.” Clark, 181 F.R.D. at 472; Allen
20 v. Woodford, No. CV-F-05-1104 OWW LJO, 2007 WL 309945, *2 (E.D. Cal. Jan. 30, 2007)
21 (citing In re Bankers Trust Co., 61 F.3d 465, 469 (6th Cir. 1995)); accord Evans v. Tilton, No.
22 1:07-cv-01814 DLB PC, 2010 WL 1136216, at *1 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 19, 2010). Under Rule 34(b), 23 the party to whom the request is directed must respond in writing that inspection and related 24 activities will be permitted as requested, or state an objection to the request, including the 25 reasons. Fed. R. Civ. P. 34(b)(2). A reasonable inquiry must be made, and if no responsive
26 documents or tangible things exist, Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(g)(1), the responding party should so state
27 with sufficient specificity to allow the court to determine whether the party made a reasonable
28 inquiry and exercised due diligence. Uribe v. McKesson, No. 08-cv-01285 DMS (NLS), 2010

1 WL 892093, at *2-3 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 9, 2010). If responsive documents do exist but the 2 responsive party claims lack of possession, control, or custody, the party must so state with 3 sufficient specificity to allow the court (1) to conclude that the responses were made after a case-
4 specific evaluation and (2) to evaluate the merit of that response. Ochotorena v. Adams, No.
5 1:05-cv-001524-LJO-DLB (PC), 2010 WL 1035774, at *3-4 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 19, 2010).

6 1. Request for Production, Set Two, Number 3

7 Request No. 3: “All documents, physical, and/or photographic evidence depicting the 8 alleged Inmate Manufactured Tool confiscated during the search of Plaintiff’s living quarters on 9 July 16, 2020 and referenced in RVR Log No. 7018370.” (Declaration of Lilit Arabyan
10 (Arabyan Decl.) Ex. A at 10, ECF No. 32-1.)

11 Response: “Objection. Defendants object to this request on the basis that it is vague and 12 overbroad as to the phrase “[a]ll documents, physical, and/or photographic evidence depicting 13 the alleged inmate manufactured tool” because it encompasses a large range of documents and is 14 not proportional to the needs of this case. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1). Such omnibus requests are 15 improper under Rule 34. “[A] discovery request is overly broad and unduly burdensome on its 16 face if it uses an omnibus term such a ‘relating to,’ ‘pertaining to,’ or ‘concerning’ to modify a 17 general category or broad range of documents or information.” Dauska v. Green Bay Packaging,
18 Inc., 291 F.R.D. 251, 261 (E.D. Wis. 2013). The facial overbreadth of Porteous’s request
19 renders it outside the scope of permissible discovery under Rule 26(b)(1), and thus improper.
20 Defendants further object to this request on the basis that Porteous is not allowed to possess or 21 view the confiscated item because it is considered contraband. California Code of Regulations,
22 Title 15, sections 3000, 3006.”

23 “Without waiving the foregoing objections, Defendants respond as follows:

24 Defendants produce the following documents:

25 RVR Log No. 7018370; and two photographs of the inmate manufactured tool
26 confiscated during a cell search of Plaintiff’s assigned cell on July 16, 2020.”
27 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. D at 2-3.)

28 Ruling: Plaintiff’s motion to compel shall be denied. In his motion to compel, Plaintiff

1 claims that the photographs initially provided by Defendants appeared to be significantly reduced
2 in resolution by their printing in black and white. (ECF No. 29 at 4, 14-15.) In response to
3 Plaintiff's instant motion, Defendants provided Plaintiff PDF documents, in color and proper
4 resolution. (Arabyan Decl. Ex. G.) Thus, any discrepancy in the photographs have been 5 remedied by Defendants, and there is no basis to order a further response.

6       2.     Request for Production, Set Two, Number 9

7       Request No. 9: "All non-confidential documents relating to all civil lawsuits either
8 pending resolution or settled, in which the Defendant R. Avila is named as a Defendant, from 9 January 1, 2012 until the present." (Arabyan Decl. Ex. A at 11.)

10       Response: "Objection. Defendants object to this request on the grounds that it seeks 11 irrelevant documents and is not proportional to the needs of this case. In this case, Porteous
12 alleges that in July 2020, Defendant Avila retaliated against him in connection with a CDCR
13 Form 602 inmate grievance that Porteous submitted after a Rules Violation Report Log No.
14 7018370 was issued by Defendant Avila. Porteous further alleges that Defendants Avila and 15 Welch violated his due process rights in connection with this RVR and its associated hearing.
16 But this request seeks documents irrelevant to Porteous's claims of retaliation and denial of due
17 process rights, as it seeks "all civil law suits" without regard to subject matter and for a ten-year
18 time period. Despite the narrow scope of the claims in this case, Porteous seeks an overbroad 19 type and number of documents: "[a]ll non-confidential documents relating to all civil lawsuits
20 either pending resolution or settled, in which the Defendant R. Avila is named as a Defendant, 21 from January 1, 2012 until the present." Such omnibus requests are improper under Rule 24.
22 "[A] discovery request is overly broad and unduly burdensome on its face if it uses an omnibus
23 term such a 'relating to,' 'pertaining to,' or 'concerning' to modify a general category or broad 24 range of documents or information." Dauska v. Green Bay Packaging, Inc., 291 F.R.D. 251, 261
25 (E.D. Wis. 2013). The facial overbreadth of Porteous's request renders it outside the scope of 26 permissible discovery under Rule 26(b)(1), and thus improper."

27 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. D at 5-6.)

28       Ruling: Plaintiff's motion to compel shall be granted in part. Plaintiff contends that

1 Defendant Avila has had a large amount of civil lawsuits filed against her and such evidence will
2 reveal a pattern of habit or conduct which falls under Federal Rules of Evidence 401, 404(b)(2)
3 and 406. Although Plaintiff's present request is overbroad, the documents requested are not
4 plainly irrelevant. Potential evidence that Defendant Avila has been sued by other parties for acts
5 related, or similar, to the causes of action alleged in the first amended are relevant to Plaintiff's
6 claims. In addition, the Court does not agree with Defendant's argument that such documents
7 are public record. Defendant Avila and/or her attorney have knowledge of such cases and access
8 to records of CDCR and/or the Attorney General's Office which will facilitate easier access to 9 such information than a search of the records of the courts of various jurisdiction in California.
10 However, the request is overbroad to the extent it seeks documents related to civil lawsuits that 11 are not related, or similar, to the causes of action alleged in the first amended complaint. Hence,
12 the Court finds Defendant's response may be limited to documents related to civil lawsuits filed
13 in the last ten years against Defendant Avila in connection with her work for acts related, or 14 similar, to the causes of action alleged in the first amended complaint. Accordingly, Defendant's 15 objections to request for production, set two, number 9, are overruled. Plaintiff's motion to 16 compel a further response to request for production, set two, number 9 is granted and Defendant
17 will be ordered to file a supplemental response and produce all responsive documents.

18       3.     Request for Production, Set Three, Numbers 1 Through 5

19       Request No. 1: "The alleged Inmate Manufactured Tool, that was claimed to have 20 been confiscated by R. Avila – Defendant, during the search of the bunk area of the Plaintiff on 21 July 16, 2020, as reported in RVR Log No. 7018370." (Arabyan Decl. Ex. B at 1.)

22       Response: "Objection. Defendants object to this request on the basis that Porteous is not
23 allowed to possess or view the confiscated item because it is considered contraband. California
24 Code of Regulations, Title 15, sections 3000, 3006. Without waiving the foregoing objections,
25 Defendants respond as follows:

26       Defendants produce the following documents:

27       Two photographs of the inmate manufactured tool confiscated during a cell search of 28 Plaintiff's assigned cell on July 16, 2020."

1 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. E at 2.)

2       Request No. 2: “The six (6) unauthorized SanDisk SD-Cards that were claimed to have 3 been confiscated by R. AVILA – Defendant, during the search of the bunk area of the Plaintiff
4 on July 16, 2020, as reported in RVR log# 7018370.”

5 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. E at 2.)

6       Response: “Objection. Defendants object to this request on the basis that Porteous is not
7 allowed to possess or view the contraband item because it is considered contraband. California
8 Code of Regulations, Title 15, sections 3000, 3006. Further, this request seeks production of 9 illicit materials to an inmate, which is improper.

10      Without waiving the foregoing objection, Defendants respond as follows:

11      Defendants produce the following documents:

12      Photographs generated in connection with RVR Log No. 7018370.”

13 (Arabyan Decl. Ex at 2.)

14       Request No. 3: “The particular SD-Card the Defendant claimed to have found 15 ‘temporary folders’ on, as reported in RVR log# 7018370, stemming from the search the 16 Defendant conducted of the Plaintiff’s bunk area on July 16, 2020.”

17       Response: “Objection. Defendants object to this request on the basis that Porteous is not
18 allowed to possess or view the confiscated item because it is considered contraband. California
19 Code of Regulations, Title 15, sections 3000, 3006. Further, this request seeks production of 20 illicit materials to an inmate, which is improper.

21      Without waiving the foregoing objections, Defendants respond as follows:

22      Defendants produce the following documents:

23      Photographs generated in connection with RVR Log No. 7018370.”

24 (Arabyan Decl. Ex at 3.)

25       Request No. 4: “The DVD labeled ‘Mr. Pete Fuck My Face’ that was claimed to 26 have been confiscated by R. Avila. Defendant, during the search of the bunk area of the Plaintiff
27 on July 16, 2020, as reported in RVR Log No. 7018370.”

28 (Arabyan Decl. Ex B. at 2.)

1       Response: “Objection. Defendants object to this request on the basis that Porteous is not
2 allowed to possess or view the confiscated items because it is considered contraband. California
3 Code of Regulations, Title 15, sections 3000, 3006. Further, this request seeks production of
4 illicit materials to an inmate, which is improper.

5           Without waiving the foregoing objection, Defendants respond as follows:

6           Defendants produce the following documents:

7           Photographs generated in connection with RVR Log No. 7018370.”

8 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. B at 3.)

9       Request No. 5: “The nineteen (19) Compact Disks that were claimed to have been 10 confiscated by R. Avila – Defendant, during the search of the bunk area of the plaintiff on July 11 16, 2020 as reported in RVR Log No. 7018370.”

12 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. B at 3.)

13       Response: “Objection. Defendants object to this request on the basis that Porteous is not
14 allowed to possess or view the confiscated items because it is considered contraband. California
15 Code of Regulations, Title 15, sections 3000, 3006. Further, this request seeks production of 16 illicit materials to an inmate, which is improper.

17           Without waiving the foregoing objection, Defendants respond as follows:

18           Defendants produce the following documents:

19           Photographs generated in connection with RVR Log No. 7018370.”

20 (Arabyan Decl. Ex. E at 3-4.)

21       Ruling: Plaintiff’s motion to compel further responses to the requests for production of 22 documents, set three, numbers 1 through 5 shall be denied. Plaintiff’s cell was searched on July
23 16, 2020, by Defendant Avila and several items were confiscated, including nineteen excess
24 compact disks (CDs), one altered Hiteker tablet, four back screw from behind the tablet, six
25 unauthorized SanDisk (SD) cards, and one metal inmate manufactured tool approximately four 26 inches in length in a form of a wrench. (Arabyan Decl. Ex. H.) Plaintiff was issued a RVR and 27 found guilty of “possession of a cellular telephone component.” It was specifically noted that 28 “an inmate may not be in possession of ‘[a]ny cellular telephone or wireless communication

1 device accessory and/or component including but not limited to, a subscriber identity module
2 (SIM card), memory storage device, cellular phone battery, wired or wireless headset, and
3 cellular phone charger.” (Id. at 1.) Although Plaintiff seeks to inspect these items, Defendants 4 have provided an alternative response by producing photographs of the confiscated items which 5 served as evidence for the decision in RVR Log No. 7018370. (Arabyan Decl. Exs. F-H.) In 6 any event, providing the photographs of the items to Plaintiff rather than inspection does not
7 affect or prejudice the analysis on Plaintiff’s claims in this case. Accordingly, Plaintiff’s motion
8 to compel further responses to request for production of documents, set three, numbers 1 through 9 5 is denied.

10 IV.

11 ORDER

12 Based on the foregoing, it is HEREBY ORDERED that:

- 13 1. Plaintiff’s motion compel is granted as to request for production of documents, set 14 two, number 9;
- 15 2. Defendant Avila shall serve a supplemental response and produce all responsive 16 documents to request for production, set two, number 9, as limited, above, within 17 fourteen (14) days of the date of this order; and
- 18 3. Plaintiff’s second motion to compel is denied in all respects.
